

Indecisive

You think I'm strong, unbreakable
But I can be vulnerable too
Walking around in the puddles of your tears
As I watch, my reflection fades

I want to be alone, just let me be
I want to be held, comfort me
I need you to understand
Understand why, why your love is destroying me

How am I supposed to do what's right
Every step I take is in the wrong direction
I need someone to show me the way
Maybe I need that someone to be me

I want to be alone, just let me be
I want to be held, why don't you comfort me
I need to be happy
I don't think I can be happy when you're with me

I love you, but I despise you
I want you, but I wish you were gone
I don't want to baby-sit you
Why don't you try to be a man

I want to be alone, just let me be
I want to be held, comfort me
I need to feel loved
Love me, just love me
